Emergency Management and Technology Management

Your Degree Option

K-State at Salina offers a Bachelor of Science degree in Technology Management through distance education. This degree completion program is designed for students who have completed the Emergency Management program at Barton Community College. The Technology Management degree provides a solid understanding of the fundamental areas in management: finance, accounting, business, and marketing. The curriculum is designed to prepare the student for the diverse environment of the business world as it relates to Emergency Management. By combining a technical area of concentration with advanced business studies, you can be a professional who has the practical and leadership skills to move forward in business.

Your Career

Emergency managers are professionals who provide leadership and management skills during disasters. They provide leadership and guidance during all phases of the disaster (mitigation, preparedness, response, and recovery). They are employed by the government at the city, county, state, and federal levels as well as by business and industry. A large percentage of these professionals serve as part-time emergency managers with their full-time position being law enforcement (city, county, or state), emergency medical services, or fire chiefs. Many of these professionals lack formal education and training in this field. This program is designed to provide training and formal education for those entering the emergency management field as well as those currently in the field who require additional training and education.

Get started!

The degree map on the reverse page will show you a listing of classes you need to take from Barton Community College and K-State to complete the Emergency Management and Technology Management 2+2. This degree map has been reviewed and accepted by both schools as an illustration, which is subject to change. Many other combinations of courses may be possible, so students should contact a K-State representative or their community college advisor before committing to a particular transfer program.

To get started, contact the K-State 2+2 representative by calling 620-786-1188 or e-mail bartondce@k-state.edu.
